

-Day 30 and/or Rosh Chodesh-

Is the Problem Really YHWH's or Are You the Issue? 😊

A brief Response to the Main Objection to the Solar Lunar calendar and to Lunar Shabbats!

A Must Read and Must Distribution.

By THE RAMYK 13-23-5991

This will be brief, as YHWH's Words need no defense.

We have carefully, meticulously and well documented over 1,900 times in Scripture, where a history of the ancient weekly 7th day Shabbat occurred on the lunar days of 8, 15, 22 and 29 in the month. Almost everything we can write and document on the subject of the correct biblical 7th day Shabbat has been written elsewhere on this site, as The RAMYK has fully discharged His Master's burden on the matter. Yet there remain many internet based gods/elohim/teachers that seem to claim to be uncomfortable with biblical moon phase Shabbats and thus continue to question YHWH, as well as to sow discord and CONFUSION among the truth seeking sheep. It is to minister to the truth seeking sheep that I have compiled this very brief overview of the ALLEGED problematic days, 30 of the old moon and day 1 of the New Moon.

-If a month is whole/healthy (in Hebrew "shalem") and has 30 days according to the Creator's original pattern, before YHWH moved the position of the sun back 10 degrees, the following takes place. Day 29 is always a 7th day Shabbat. Day 30 is a the PREPERATION DAY for Rosh Chodesh New Moon Day. Every feast including the rabbinical Saturn-Day Shabbat, has FRIDAY as a PREPERATION day for Saturday, showing that this is nothing radical, unless you want to make it radical in your own mind. DAY 30 is NOT a weekday counted among the 7 weekdays and is not a New Moon Day, but a day each month given by YHWH to prepare for New Moon Day. Is it a day??? Absolutely!!! If the sun rises and sets in a 24 hour period it is considered a day! For those who teach a form of lunar Shabbat and yet teach day 30 and New Moon Day as "NON DAYS," or worse yet, as a "2-3 day SHABBAT celebration" are in grievous error. Any schoolchild knows that the 7th day Shabbat is a single DAY, not a 2-3 day 7th day Shabbat celebration at the end of each month! This is not only misleading and cantankerous to the lunar Shabbat truth, but is sore and even abominable in YHWH's eyes. This is why when YOU STUDY the issue for yourself, allow YHWH to restore the true Shabbat in your life; you must get your truth from YHWH and His Word, not from an internet teacher/elohim that tells you that the last Shabbat of the month is actually “a 3 day affair” without Scriptural proof! How many have rightly rejected the true biblical Shabbats because of this nonsense?

-A second grievous error made by internet gods/elohim falsely perverting YHWH's solar lunar calendar is the assumption and false presumption that on 30 day months, day 30 and New Moon Day are so called NON DAYS!!! Now I'm trying not to be angry, or rattled here, and am attributing this understanding to stupidity and not nefarious motives. How can any day whether one follows the false Roman week and Saturday Sabbath, or the true solar lunar calendar, declare any day as a NON DAY?? According to Scripture if the sun rises and sets in a given 24 hour period, then that time period is considered a day and MUST be so reckoned! These days, day 30 and New Moon Day are reckoned as the last and the first DAY respectively of the old and renewed month! To claim that these days are either “non days,” or “a three day month ending Shabbat” is insane, both logically and scripturally. Those who teach this perversion have become a sad stumbling block to those who might otherwise take lunar Shabbat seriously!!! I ask you to urgently reconsider your ways and your days..... TODAY!

Additionally, for those who teach that the true Shabbats are 7, 14, 21 and 28 of the moon, their problem is even bigger. They falsely claim that days 29, 30 and New Moon Day every month are “three day Shabbats,” or “one long Shabbat,” or worse, that these days are 3 month ending “non days!” (See Why the True Shabbat Can Never Fall On 7, 14, 21 or 28th of the Month PDF)

What utter nonsense! If that was the way the lunar Shabbat was presented to me, I would most surely have mocked it to oblivion and rejected the truth of moon based Shabbats. Fortunately it was not presented to me that way, as I knew right off the bat that the original creation week had only one 7th day Shabbat, not a “3 day month ending 7th day Shabbat,” or a month ending “3 NON DAY” celebration. That's probably why I rejected lunar Shabbat for so many years, as the stupidity with which it was perverted and then presented was beyond comprehension. Of course, the devil was behind this perversion all along, as he has seated himself on the Har Ha Moed, or the mountain of mankind's timekeeping and has greatly desired to maintain his usurped position by twisting the truth, seeing that he cannot totally eliminate the truth! s.a.tan has no power over the operation of actual sun, moon and stars, but does his work here on the earth in conjunction with FALSE DOCTRINES!

-On months with 29 days, or sick-“choleh” months, the 29th day is always a weekly 7th day Shabbat, with New Moon Day beginning at sundown of the same day. In this case, only Day One, or New Moon day is at issue. Still Day One, or New Moon Day, is a day and must be counted as day one of the renewed moon. The same ones who teach the stupidity of “non days” in a 30 day month, also do the same in a 29 day month, by falsely teaching that New Moon Day 1, or Rosh Chodesh is a “zero day or non day.” Again this is the same nonsense that they apply to 30 day months. If you want YHWH’s mind on this, then you must reject that nonsense outright and accept the lunar biblical Shabbat as recorded in Scripture, not as parroted through perversions of the truth, teaching the traditions of men, as if they were the very commands of YHWH. Again, whenever the sun rises and sets, it is a day and MUST be counted in the month, but not necessarily in the week, as New Moon Day has its designated Preparation Day 30 as well. Can you imagine telling YHWH Himself that you are sad to have to inform Him that He has some days that really do not exist on internet calendars? LOL 😊 😊

-Lastly, some reject the biblical Shabbat truth because they see day 30, at the end of each 30 day month, as well as New Moon Day, not counted as part of a normal seven day week day.

Let’s tackle day 30 first-It is counted as a day of the month, as is New Moon Day. We are forbidden to count day 30 as a weekday, as that’s exactly what YHWH wants! If we were to count day 30 as Yom Rishon, or day one of the new work week following the Shabbat on day 29, then you would have exactly what s.a.tan desires; which is the weeks’ all perpetually chained to one another. That’s what allows s.a.tan the ability to tie your past into your new creation status in Messiah Yahshua’s love!

If the weeks are chained to one another, so are the months, despite some who would aggressively deny this plain fact! In Roman time, a month ending on say a Wednesday, can start afresh say on a Thursday, in the middle of the same Roman week, regardless of heaven’s 2 faithful witnesses. That’s how all the weeks and months are chained together. Now the problem with that is that YHWH calls the Rosh Chodesh, or New Moon Day a divider, or a day to bring in a RENEWED month, a RESET TIME, if you will. Chodesh in Hebrew means RESET, REBORN, or RENEWED, not a month chained to day 29 and 30 of the last month.

And what about day 30? That’s the day to prepare for the New Moon Feast/meal celebration! IT IS A DIVINE COMMAND BY YHWH HIMSELF THAT DAY 30 AND NEW MOON DAY ARE BOTH COUNTED AS DAYS OF THE MONTH, BUT NOT AS WEEKDAYS! FOR IF THEY WERE, ALL WEEKS IN A GIVEN YEAR WOULD BE CHAINED AND SUBSEQUENTLY ALL MONTHS WOULD ALSO BE KNOWN AS “CHAINED MONTHS” NOT AS NEW MONTHS/MOONS!! IF YOU WANT YOUR MONTHS AND WEEKS “CHAINED” BY A COHABITATION OF BOTH RELIGION AND STATE, AS YOU WERE TAUGHT SINCE YOUR CHILDHOOD, THEN GO AHEAD.....CONTINUE TO FOLLOW THE ROMAN, JEWISH, OR THE KAIRITE JEWISH-MESSIANIC CALENDAR. And of course, when you think of chains and bondage, exactly who comes to mind? Correct! s.a.tan.

Please be aware that the Jewish calendar also does this at the end of each month (2 days of monthly separation), but they hide it from you (by turning them into 2 normal weekdays) and deceive you into thinking that it’s thus an exclusive problem with lunar Shabbat. It may be a problem for you, but not for YHWH; so whose problems are days 30 and Day 1 of the New Moon friend? Yours, based on Greco-Roman and Jewish-Hellenistic culture, or YHWH’s? It’s your problem friends!!! Sorry! That’s the truth!

Now in some months on the Jewish calendar, you will in fact find TWO NEW MOON DAYS, OR TWO ROSH CHODESH DAYS together (about 7 times a year in months with 30 days). The traditional rabbis will tell you that, that is because of the Diaspora, to allow an extra day, as those in the exile are a day behind, or off from Israel’s New Moon. But if the truth be told, the idea of having 2 days at the end of the 30 day month tied together as “New Moon Days,” not only has its origin in biblical times as seen in First Samuel 20, but also is maintained today by rabbinical Judaism! Look at any Jewish calendar and you will see some months with 2 days of New Moon acknowledgment. IN THIS YEAR’S JEWISH CALENDAR, 7 MONTHS HAVE 2 DAYS FOR NEW MOON CELEBRATION!!!!

So you can see that this is not a lunar Shabbat problem, or an issue of any kind, as some lunar Shabbat opponents have made it out to be!!! It is a heavenly-astronomical issue, but Judaism has hidden this necessity to account for 2 days (Day 30 and Day 1) that are not weekdays, by hiding them in a Roman week and by breaking YHWH’s Word that these days can only be counted in the month, not in a 7 day week! The Jewish calendar has inserted them in regular work weeks, so you won’t ask questions!!!!!!

See what happens when you’re open to the simple TRUTH? So this alleged “problem” is not a problem at all and that is confirmed by the Jewish practice of a 2 day “New Moon Allowance” in months with 30 days! So rabbinical Jews can celebrate either one, or both as Rosh Chodesh, just like lunar Shabbat proponents! Unlike them however, we do not hide biblical truth, but rather are found to be proclaiming it with assurance and boldness!

Final Point-The counting of the omer must be approached correctly. The same folks who claim days 30 and New Moon Day as “non days,” invariably do not count them as part of the omer count to Shavuot! This is an outgrowth of the “base and basic error” of “non days.” If one follows this flawed logic, the (any omer count) omer count will skip 3 days (2 New Moon days and one Preparation Day 30) and wind up past the 50 day required countdown to Shavuot! Please.... DO NOT LISTEN TO THE LIES AGAINST TRUE LUNAR SHABBAT. Get the CORRECT biblical version FROM SCRIPTURE, not some manmade perversion! A lunar Shabbat that counts 52-53 days in the omer reckoning, or promotes “skipped non days” is a false representation of the truth and gives the truth a “scandalous tag.” To see this laid out graphically please see Feast of Weeks the Counting to Shavuot PDF

Close-Now is the time to admit that what you have perhaps mistakenly called “the main problem” with the lunar Shabbat truth, is also found hidden in rabbinic Judaism and in fact has been your “personal cultural problem” all along, not YHWH’s. Perhaps it’s the incorrect way it was presented to you! That’s understandable! Moreover, it’s time to admit you are SO accustomed to Roman time, as I was, that it’s a hard addiction to break in your return to the true Commonwealth of Israel and the biblical time reckoning of Noah and the patriarchs. And finally, PLEASE do not listen to anyone that tries to sell you a perversion of YHWH’s lunar calendar fixed in the heavens, with either so-called “non days,” or a 3 day Shabbat” doctrine.

If someone tells you that day 30, or New Moon Day are either part of a “LONG 3 day Shabbat,” ☺ or are “non days,” ☺ just ignore them! Now you know the eternal truth! So live it! Selah ☺
